

Technology Interview

Interview someone who has a memory of using technology from the last century. That person may remember getting their first television set, buying their first computer, playing on a games console for the first time or choosing their first mobile phone. Use the following questions to help you do this:

Interview

Name: _____

How you know this person: _____

Describe your television set from when you were young:

When did you first get a computer at home?

What is the one piece of technology in your home that you could not live without?

Now think of 2 of your own questions to ask:

1. _____

2. _____

Does your interviewee have any old photographs of one of the items mentioned today?